An ongoing partnership for success

Consulting doesn't just happen at the beginning of the implementation; rather, it's an ongoing partnership to help your organization achieve its goals.

We partner with you throughout your Edmentum program implementation to understand the outcomes that you, your teachers, and your students are working toward. Then, together, we'll set goals, develop a strategic plan to achieve them, and facilitate the necessary change management to get your program up and running successfully.

Understanding Edmentum program fundamentals will be a part of your organization's professional learning, but our consulting doesn't stop there. Educators will participate in a variety of interactive experiences aligned to your objectives and tailored to the needs of the participants.

Professional learning topics include:

- Instructional best practices
- Assessment literacy
- Tiered intervention models, including RTI and MTSS
- Data-driven instruction
- Blended learning

Your Edmentum consultant will provide ongoing coaching to help educators refine their instructional practices. This may include classroom modeling and observation, participating in PLC meetings, helping review and analyze data, providing support and resources, and other job-embedded professional development activities.
