

Oh Meg, I wouldn't use that blog, there are always trolls there.

I thought trolls were mean ugly creatures that lived under bridges. How can trolls use blogs?

Trolls are just people, but they don't act very nicely. Internet trolls try to stir up trouble and cause arguments. They ask questions just to make people mad or say things that are insulting.

So, the person that gave a thumbs down to all of my comments could just be a troll?

Right.

What do you think is the best way to deal with a troll?
